Some baby boomers think that ‘getting older’ and ‘aging’ are the same thing. Not true! Getting older corresponds with the passage of time whereas aging relates to the breakdown of cells in the body. Cell deterioration causes wrinkles, droopy skin, and sometimes weight gain.

Many of my boomer friends feel their age is just a number. They don’t let that number define them. To keep doing all the things they love, they practice a healthy Colorado lifestyle which includes: adequate sleep, exercise, a plant-based diet, and drinking plenty of high quality water.

Continuous hydration is the foundation of a healthy lifestyle. Choosing to drink the healthiest water is important.

As an active Denver boomer, I chose to invest in the ultimate in-home water filtration system manufactured by Enagic International. Enagic Kangen water tastes clean and delicious.

The Kangen ionization and filtration machine produces ionized alkaline water which helps neutralize aging-related free radicals.

I am able to produce all the healthy Kangen water I need by simply using the Kangen water filtration system to filter municipal water. It is so simple and affordable. I also appreciate the fact that it is eco-friendly.

I would love to share more information about Kangen alkaline water with you...
...and a most promising home business opportunity.
